Snow hits the county

OXFORDSHIRE woke up to a blanket of snow on Tuesday morning with up to three inches falling in some parts of the county.

Snow began falling on Monday night and continued into the early hours of the morning.

While the white stuff set a pretty scene across Didcot, it caused havoc on the county's roads with several collisions on the A34.

For full story and more snow pictures, see page 2.

BROTHER ACQUITTED

• Didcot teenager Jayden Parkinson

THE brother of Jayden Parkinson's murderer has been acquitted of knowingly helping to bury her body.

Jake Blakeley, 18, of Venners Water, Didcot, was acquitted at Oxford Crown Court on Tuesday after jurors failed to agree a verdict after 10 hours of deliberation.

Jayden's mother Samantha Shrewsbury cried uncontrollably as Judge Patrick Eccles dismissed the jury.

Jake's brother Ben Blakeley, 23, formerly of Christchurch Road, Reading, was jailed last July for a minimum of 20 years for 17-year-old Jayden's murder.

Blakeley strangled his pregnant ex-girlfriend in a field near Upton on December 3, 2013.

He buried the Didcot teenager in a field on December 5 before digging her up and putting her in his uncle Alan Kennedy's grave four days later.

Jake was accused of helping his brother dig the holes but said he thought they were for a dead cat, dog and weapons.

The 18-year-old previously pleaded guilty to perverting the course of justice.

He is to be sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on March 10.

Bullfinch: Child sex trafficker Mahdi guilty

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A 36-YEAR-OLD man on trial for trafficking two teenage girls in the Oxford area between 1996 and 2008 was found guilty at Oxford Crown Court on Friday.

Tilal Mahdi, of Friars Street in Hereford, was convicted of trafficking within the UK for sexual exploitation, arranging or facilitating child prostitution, conspiracy to indecently assault a girl and two counts of conspiracy to rape a girl.

It comes as part of the ongoing Operation Bullfinch investigation into child sexual exploitation in Oxford.

Mahdi was arrested in November after being named as a wanted person by Thames Valley Police earlier in the year.

He was wanted in connection with a number of sexual offences on two girls aged between 13 and 15 at the time.

During the trial it was heard that the experiences of the girls had been similar, despite the offences taking place 12 years apart.

Senior investigating officer Det Ch Insp Mark Glover said: "Tilal Mahdi took advantage of young vulnerable girls for his own sexual purposes.

"He showed them attention, he plied them with alcohol and drugs, and made them feel special.

"They believed he cared for them, they believed he loved them, but Mahdi was simply grooming these young girls.

"Once he had done this, he would arrange for them to have sex with other men which they did not consent to.

"With one of the girls, he would take her to other places with the purpose of having sex with other men."

Mahdi is due to be sentenced at Oxford Crown Court on March 6.

Det Ch Insp Glover continued: "The young women in this case had incredible bravery in coming forward to tell police about the offences inflicted on them at a young age, and I want to thank them for that.

"I also want to thank the Operation Bullfinch team and our partner agencies for the continued hard work supporting victims and making sure offenders are brought to justice."

He added that anyone who has been the victim of sexual abuse can get in touch with police so they can help.

County covered in blanket of snow

• County Hall in Abingdon (picture by Adam Flinn)

OXFORDSHIRE was carpeted in snow on Tuesday morning, with three inches covering parts of the county.

Snow began falling on Monday evening and continued falling into the early hours of the following morning.

It created picturesque scenes across Oxfordshire, with dozens of people taking to the streets with their cameras to capture the views.

The Met Office had said more snow was likely on Tuesday night, but it didn't materialise and rain washed most of the fallen snow away.

The weather conditions affected transport in the region, and played a part in at least three crashes on the A34 around Abingdon, Milton and Chilton.

Oxford Bus Company was also reporting delays of up to 45 minutes on its services on Tuesday.

However no schools were reported to have closed because of the snow.

The Met Office's forecast for Oxford isn't predicting any more flurries of snow this week.

Residents have until February 20 to put forward the sports coaches, clubs and unsung heroes they feel are deserving of special recognition.

Richard Langridge, West Oxfordshire District Council's cabinet member for local economy, said: "We're reminding people to get their nominations in and not miss the opportunity to gain recognition for the true heroes of our local sporting community."

To submit a nomination, go to westoxon.gov.uk/leisure or call 01993 861080.

Car survey

BICESTER: Residents are being asked their thoughts on what would encourage them to switch to electric or hybrid cars.

As part of One Shared Vision - to promote sustainable living in the town - Cherwell District Council is looking at ways it can advocate the use of low emission vehicles.

So the council is asking residents to complete an online questionnaire about how it could work.

The survey is running until Sunday. To take part, go to tinyurl.com/electriccar-cdc.

Three arrested

WITNEY: A 22-year-old man from Carterton and two teenagers from Witney have been arrested following an assault in Langdale Gate on Sunday.

Just after 3am, a fight broke out between a group of men.

A 27-year-old man was left with bruising to his head and face, bite marks on his chest and cuts to his face, which required stitches.

The man from Carterton was arrested on suspicion of causing actual bodily harm, while the two teenagers, aged 18 and 19, were arrested on suspicion of causing grievous bodily harm.

All three have been released on bail until March 2.

Anyone with information about the assault should contact investigating officer PC Darren Hall on 101.

Constable recounts A34 badger death smash

A POLICE officer has described the moment he tried to save a dying lorry driver, who crashed on the A34, while he was clearing a dead badger.

PC Richard Farnell rushed to the aid of Jose Antonio Castro-Gonzalez after he crashed while driving towards Didcot in the early hours of February 21.

A verdict of accidental death was given at an inquest into his death at Oxfordshire Coroners' Court in New Road on Tuesday.

PC Farnell and PC Lisa Brennan were trying to clear the dead animal from the southbound fast lane near Marcham Interchange after receiving a call at 3am that it was on the carriageway.

They carried out a rolling roadblock on the A34 and turned on red and hazard warning lights,

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

before stopping to remove the badger.

Two lorries and a car stopped behind the marked police car but PC Farnell said he heard "screeching" as Mr Castro-Gonzalez's Budgens truck crashed into the Norbert lorry in front, and then the central reservation.

PC Farnell said he remembers the central reservation flexing upon impact.

He added: "I suddenly became aware of a third HGV which was badly smashed from the front.

"My main concern was the welfare of the driver.

"I tried to open the door but I couldn't, but I could see the driver who was trapped."

PC Brennan said: "There was nothing either of us could do.

"PC Farnell was talking to the driver, he was reassuring him that help was on its way."

The inquest heard that Mr Castro-Gonzalez, of Old Ford End Road, Bedford, died at the John Radcliffe Hospital at 4.39am after suffering a cardiac arrest on the dual carriageway.

Kenneth Kirtland's Norbert lorry was hit from behind as he was coming to a gradual stop behind a Fowler Welch truck.

He added: "As I was rolling I heard a loud bang and started to speed up."

He continued: "I pressed on my brakes and nothing was happening. I thought I was going to end up sandwiched with the truck in front.

"My truck finally came to a stop and I got out and could see a lorry had gone into the back of me and into the central reservation."

Paramedic Jason Butler attended the collision and also gave evidence on Tuesday.

He said: "The majority of the damage to the patient's cab was on the passenger's side but the male driver was trapped by his legs.

"An oxygen mask was put on the patient's face and his condition deteriorated."

Mr Butler said Mr Castro-Gonzalez was freed from his cab at 3.55am and was taken to John Radcliffe Hospital after receiving adrenaline in the ambulance.

Oxfordshire Coroner Darren Salter heard road conditions were good but that stretch of the A34 is very dark as there is no street lighting.

PC Farnell added he is 'fast road trained' and had performed rolling roadblocks without incident several times before.

Stepping out for Didcot charity

• Veronica Dallas and Andrew Baker

FUNDRAISERS put on their walking boots last weekend all in the good name of charity.

Staff at Sainsbury's in the Orchard Centre joined members of fundraising organisation Play2Give in walking to the village of Upton and back on February 1.

People of all ages, sizes and even animals took part in the walk along the old railway line, raising over £900 for Play2Give.

Twenty-five people took part in the walk which, including a stop at the The George and Dragon pub in Upton, took about three hours.

Sainsbury's worker Veronica Dallas organised the walk after the supermarket chain announced Play2Give as its charity of the year for Didcot.

She said: "It was lovely and we raised a lot more than I thought we would.

"It is just one of the many things we will be organising for Play2-Give."

Andrew Baker, founder of Play2-Give, who donned a Spider-Man costume for the walk, added: "It was great fun, a great success and it even stayed dry."

Play2Give raises money for the Oxford Children's Hospital and Paediatric Eye Fund in Headington, and Kennington brain injury charity Headway Oxfordshire.

Arson accused refuses to speak in court

A MAN accused of several arson attacks in South Oxfordshire, including at the district council's offices, refused to speak in court last Friday.

Andrew Main, 47, of Roke Marsh, is charged with two counts of arson with intent to endanger life and two of arson reckless as to whether life was endangered.

The charges relate to three fires that broke out at Chadwick Howard funeral directors and South Oxfordshire District Council's offices, both in Benson Lane, Crowmarsh, and a thatched house in Quakers Corner, Roke Marsh, on January 15.

Main appeared at Oxford Crown Court via video link at Bullingdon Prison near Bicester on January 30 for a preliminary hearing.

However, he refused to speak and Adrian Amer, defending, questioned whether his client was mentally ready.

The hearing was adjourned until April 10, while Main will appear at Oxford Crown Court for a hearing to discuss the case on March 6.

Judge Peter Ross said if a trial is needed it would likely last for a week.

Gateway plans set to be submitted in May

A PLANNING application could be submitted in May for the Northern Gateway in Oxford with building work potentially starting at the end of this year.

The news comes after an extra £9.9million was added to the Oxfordshire Growth Deal last Thursday, in addition to £108.6m signed last month.

The Northern Gateway development is to get £6m of that money.

Oxford City Council wants to develop 90,000sqm of land either side of the A44 next to Pear Tree roundabout.

The plans include 500 homes, offices and research space as well as improving the Wolvercote and Cutteslowe roundabouts.

Government-appointed planning inspector Christine Newmarch will examine the Northern Gateway Area Action Plan on March 10.

City council leader Bob Price said: "We're delighted to get this money."

He added: "The site can be developed as soon as the planning position is clarified which

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

we hope will be May.

"We can then start to look at opportunities for bringing in loads more jobs and homes to Oxford.

"Building work could start at the end of this year hopefully or at the beginning of next year."

Last Thursday, £3.5m was also pledged for the development of Oxpens and £400,000 for an Activate Care Suite to improve adult social care and healthcare in Oxfordshire.

Plans for Oxpens – land between the train station and Westgate – include at least 300 homes, a hotel, 10,400sqm of offices, research and development space, and flood mitigation measures.

Conservative party chairman and cabinet office minister Grant Shapps was in Oxford last week and described the city's future as "bright".

He said: "By having one of the best universities in the world it is important that Oxford's future is incredibly prosperous but we've got to stay ahead of the game.

"Oxfordshire is the priority of our investment plans for the future of this country, not just Oxford.

"We need the brains, intellect and the skills and the population of places like Oxford to drive forward that prosperity."

As part of the deal, the government has committed to supporting the £13.5m plans to turn Lodge Hill near Abingdon into a diamond interchange by building south-facing slip roads.

Full funding is due to be announced in the summer, while a small portion of last week's money will be used for design work.

The Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership, who is responsible for developing the county's economy, agreed the deal with the government.

Chief executive Nigel Tipple said: "It is in the plans and we have already started that dialogue to bring it forward."

Man assaulted

BICESTER: Police have released an image of two men they want to speak with in connection with an assault in Bicester on December 5.

At 4.15pm, two men and two boys were taunting a refuse collector in Sheep Street, when a nearby shop worker tried to intervene.

When he asked the group to stop, the oldest man from the group punched him and threatened to hit him with a spade taken from the refuse collector's cart.

Other people then came out of nearby shops, and the offenders walked away. The victim did not need hospital treatment.

Patients, staff and visitors will not be allowed to smoke at its sites including Abingdon, Didcot, Bicester, City, Wallingford, Wantage, and Witney community hospitals, health centres, and surgeries.

Abingdon builders in court for shoddy work

TWO men from Abingdon have pleaded guilty to carrying out substandard work on a Radley pensioner's home.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Christopher Meacey, 48, of Stonehill Walk, and Angel Jay, 41, of Cotman Close, admitted charges regarding poor quality building work at Oxford Crown Court last month.

The pair are due to be sentenced at the same court on February 27.

It comes after Meacey began work in April 2013 for the pensioner to paint his home's interior, move a wall and install a new toilet, bath and cabinet.

But when it was not completed on time, the pensioner complained about the standard of work and Meacey arranged for Jay to take over the job, although his work was also substandard.

The pensioner was then charged £4,810 for the work carried out – significantly higher than what it was worth.

Meacey appeared at court on January 23 and Jay on January 26 following an investigation by Oxfordshire Trading Standards.

Anu Prashar, Trading Standards team leader who prosecuted the cases, said: "Unfortunately there are some traders out there who take on jobs, do poor quality work and then vastly over inflate the price.

"Oxfordshire County Council's Trading Standards team investigated the situation and successfully brought the cases to court, where the defendants admitted their guilt."

Rodney Rose, deputy leader of Oxfordshire County Council with responsibility for Trading Standards, was pleased with the prosecutions.

He said: "This is yet another excellent result for the Trading Standards team.

"I hope these cases act as a deterrent to any dishonest traders who might be thinking of trying to earn quick money by doing substandard work.

"My advice is that people should consult the council's 'Buy With Confidence' list so they can find a company that has been carefully vetted to ensure that they are reputable."

Wildlife park keeper up for national award

A BIRD keeper at Cotswold Wildlife Park has been nominated for a national tourism award after being crowned Oxfordshire's Tourism Superstar of 2014.

Chris Green has been working at the wildlife park's bird section since 2007, and is well known for his daily talks in the penguin enclosure.

He started keeping birds aged nine, and at the wildlife park has helped hand-rear species including Guira Cuckoos, White Spotted Laughing Thrush and Humbolt Penguins.

• Chris Green with Findley and the penguins

And Chris has now been shortlisted for VisitEngland's national Tourism Superstar 2015 award.

He said: "It came as a complete surprise to hear that I was nominated for the Tourism Superstar award in the Oxfordshire region and an even bigger one on the night to find out I had won.

"So you can imagine how overwhelmed I felt to be through to the national finals, particularly when I was nominated for just doing what I love."

Last summer Chris took part in the charity event 'Dream Night at the Zoo', which saw disabled children and their families visit the park after hours.

Chris added: "It was a night I'll never forget. One little boy in particular, Findley, sticks in my mind.

"He loved the penguins and was fascinated by them. The smile on his face was infectious, and it was a truly magical moment."

Police complaints increase by nine per cent

COMPLAINTS against Thames Valley Police have increased by nine per cent, with more than half being investigated.

The Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC), the body that oversees the force's complaints system, published its figures on Monday.

According to the findings, 1,043 complaints were made to Thames Valley Police between April 2013 and 2014.

Among the complaints, 54 per cent were investigated by the IPCC and 19 per cent were upheld.

Of the 1,042 complaints, 95 per cent of them were recorded within 10 working days.

Nationally, 34,863 complaints were made between 2013 and 2014 - a 15 per cent increase in comparison to the previous year.

Chair of the IPCC Dame Anne Owers said: "It is clear from these statistics that forces still struggle to get it right first time.

"And there are now serious questions about whether they get it right the second time either.

"We will continue to work with them to improve complaints handling."

Council chief to step down in June

• Oxfordshire County Council chief executive Joanna Simons

OXFORDSHIRE County Council's chief executive will stand down in the summer as part of cost-cutting measures.

Joanna Simons, who has been in the job for 10 years, will leave her role at the end of June as the county council look to "protect frontline services".

It is among many modernisation methods the county council wishes to implement after the general election, including joint working with the NHS.

Ms Simons earns £186,097 a year, which amounts to £15,508 a month, and will not be replaced with decision making being devolved to lower levels of the council.

Oxfordshire County Council has to save £90million between 2009 and 2017 in line with a reduction in central government funding.

Ms Simons is responsible for the council's gross expenditure of £873m and accountable for all the services it delivers, such as schools.

County council leader Ian Hudspeth made the decision last Friday, January 30.

He said: "This is a big change for the council and it has not been a decision I have made lightly.

"But it is borne of the need to find new ways to deliver essential frontline services in the certain knowledge that further austerity is coming the way of the public sector over the coming years."

Ms Simons added: "This may seem like a radical change, and it is, but radical change is needed to transform the public sector so it can cope with the financial challenges ahead.

"New solutions are needed and it is right that the county council pushes ahead so it can do more to join up across the public sector."

The news comes ahead of the publication of a serious case review into Operation Bullfinch in March, which is likely to be critical of county council.

In 2013 seven men were jailed for a total of 95 years for offences including rape, facilitating child prostitution and trafficking towards young women and girls between 2004 and 2012.

Deaths on county's roads on the rise

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

TEN more people died on Oxfordshire's roads in 2014 compared to the previous year, according to figures released by Thames Valley Police last Wednesday.

In 2014, 27 people died in 27 collisions in the county, compared to 17 deaths in 2013.

Across the Thames Valley there has been a 37 per cent increase in fatal collisions from 57 deaths to 78.

Head of Roads Policing, Chief Inspector Henry Parsons, described the figures as "exceptionally disappointing" after the number of road deaths were at their lowest for 40 years in 2013.

The figures are back to where they were in 2012 when there were also 78 collisions across the Thames Valley.

Ch Insp Parsons said: "The rise in fatal collisions across the Thames Valley is exceptionally disappointing with each fatality causing untold misery and distress to the loved ones of the people who died.

"Each statistic represents a family which has lost someone in sudden and tragic circumstances and our thoughts remain with families affected in this way.

"The causes of the collisions are varied, with many still under investigation.

"Some of these involve criminal investigations for causing death by dangerous driving or death by careless driving."

There were several high profile fatalities in the county last year.

In June, 14-year-old Liberty Baker was killed walking to school in Witney.

Bampton teenager Robert Blackwell has been charged with causing death by dangerous driving, and will submit a plea at Oxford Crown Court on March 6.

In May last year, 79-year-old Sultan Begum died after being hit by a fire engine rushing to an emergency call on Cowley Road in Oxford.

An inquest into Mrs Begum's death will be held at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road next Thursday, February 12.

Ch Insp Parsons added: "Our team works in partnership with local authorities and other emergency services to improve road safety.

"We will continue to deliver targeted enforcement to reduce the risks of collisions.

"In addition we will continue to deliver innovative, appropriate, alternatives to prosecution as well as our 'Safe Drive, Stay Alive' package aimed at young people and our 'Bike Safe' campaign for motorcyclists."

Uni joins Alan Turing Institute

OXFORD has been selected as one of five universities to take part in the creation of an Alan Turing Institute, announced by the government last year.

Named after the Second World War codebreaker, the institute is being set up to support research into methods of collecting, organising and analysing data.

It is being funded with £42million of government money over the next five years, and sees Oxford teamed with the universities of Cambridge, Edinburgh and Warwick, and University College London.

Business secretary Vince Cable said: "Alan Turing's genius played a pivotal role in cracking the coders that helped us win the Second World War.

"It is therefore only right that our country's top universities are chosen to lead this new institute named in his honour."

Professor Ian Walmsley, Oxford University's provice-chancellor for research, said: "Advances in data and science and algorithms have the potential to transform our everyday lives and the economy.

"We are delighted to be part of this new venture, and look forward to working with our partners at the institute."

OXFORDSHIRE'S schools posted above average results in last year's GCSE exams, figures published last Thursday have revealed.

Almost 60 per cent of pupils in the county gained five or more GCSEs graded A* to C including English and Maths - more than two per cent higher than the national average.

It comes as a new assessment system for schools was introduced for last year's results, which means school league tables are now based on their pupils' first exams.

Previously they were measured on students' final results, which included exam resits.

Under the old system, the figure for Oxfordshire in 2013 was 60.6 per cent, compared to a national average of 60.8 per cent.

Melinda Tilley, Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for children, education and families, was pleased with the results.

She said: "We have long said we wanted Oxfordshire to be ahead of national averages and it is a delight to be able to say that in 2014 we have achieved that.

"Congratulations must go to staff and students at Oxfordshire schools for this result, and the aim must now be for our schools to get ever better.

"These results will mean little if next year we are back in line with the average, so we must guard against complacency."

The new system has also affected the league tables for a number of private schools in the county, with many plummeting to the bottom.

This is because some international GCSES, which many private schools prefer to use, do not count under the new rankings.

As a result, schools such as Our Lady's Abingdon and Cokethorpe School in Witney have gone from posting figures above 90 per cent in 2013 to zero per cent in 2014.

MP's Corner

John Howell
MP for Henley

Notable rise in equality

INEQUALITY is now lower than it was at the election and we can now see 1.75million more people in work.

There are 600,000 fewer people in relative poverty than there were at the election and 300,000 fewer children in relative poverty.

There are more people able to go out, earn a wage and support their families.

The number of children living in a household where no one has a job is now the lowest since records began 18 years ago.

The minimum wage has been increased by the largest amount in six years. The pupil premium, worth £2.5billion in 2014-15, is supporting disadvantaged children in reaching their full potential and helping to close the attainment gap between them and their more advantaged peers.

Children from disadvantaged backgrounds are doing better than ever at school, with the proportion of children on free school meals getting good GCSEs having increased by over 20 per cent between 2010 and 2013.

Social mobility has dramatically improved under this Government. No-one should come up against barriers to getting ahead because of family background.

Take, for example, the increase in university fees. Many said that this would contribute to disadvantaged children losing out.

However, last year, the highest ever percentage of disadvantaged pupils applied to go to university, and 18 per cent of pupils eligible for free school meals applied. Compare this with 2006 when only 10.5 per cent applied.

This demonstrates that the reforms to higher education funding are working as students realise they do not need to pay up front for tuition.

Bartholomew School leading the way

EIGHTEEN months ago, you wouldn't have heard a mention of the sport rugby league in Oxfordshire. However, this is now changing for a number of reasons, one main one being the introduction of the sport at Bartholomew School in Eynsham.

Since its introduction in the summer of 2014, the sport has gone from strength to strength with two squads playing competitive rugby league at Under 12 (Bartholomew Bulldogs school squad) and Under 13 (Oxford Cavaliers community club squad) levels. There has been a great deal of support for the growth of the game both in the school, including from Headteacher Andy Hamilton, but also in the local community from businesses such as Nick Westbury Ltd and Ainscough Industrial Group.

The next stage of the development of the sport locally will be the growing need for support year on year due to the number of children becoming involved in the sport. One part of this development will be a number of coaching trials, held at the school for Oxford Brookes and Oxford University students, to create a team of community coaches who will then be put forward to complete their coaching badges. This is something that has been made possible by a number of sports enthusiasts pledging to a recent Crowdfunder project that was set up by the PE department of Bartholomew School.

If anyone is interested in supporting with the development of grassroots rugby league in Oxford, or if anyone is interested in playing, please feel free to contact John Connaughton at john_connaughton@hotmail.com or on 07809257706.

University's Ebola vaccine deemed safe

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

EXPERTS say the first results of an Ebola vaccine at Oxford University indicate that it is safe.

Scientists at the university's Jenner Institute in Roosevelt Drive have been trialling a vaccine developed by the US National Institutes of Health in response to the Ebola outbreak in West Africa.

Ebola is a deadly infectious illness that can spread through direct contact with the blood, vomit, faeces or bodily fluids of someone with the disease.

Sixty healthy volunteers were vaccinated in Oxford between September 17 and November 18 last year.

Results published in the New England Journal of Medicine last week showed that the vaccine was tolerated at three different strength doses – low, medium and high.

Director of the Jenner Institute Adrian Hill said: "People typically experienced mild symptoms that lasted for one or maybe two days, such as pain or reddening at the injection site, and occasionally people felt feverish.

"It's very similar to what has been seen in previous studies with this general type of vaccine."

It will now be sent for testing in Liberia over the coming weeks to see whether it can protect against Ebola.

Mr Hill added: "The next step will move from trials here in the UK onto very large scale trails in West Africa.

"The details are still being finalised but it looks now as if there will be a trial of at least 10,000 people in Liberia over the next few weeks.

"It will probably run for several months to see how well that vaccine protects against Ebola."

The trial at Oxford University is one of four that were fast-tracked in response to the outbreak of the Ebola disease, which has claimed more than 8,000 lives in Guinea, Sierra Leone and Liberia since March last year.

Other trials have taken place in the USA, Mali and Switzerland.

Ruth Atkins was the first person to volunteer for the Oxford trial last September.

She said: "When you see what is going on out in the countries in West Africa it is really tragic.

She continued: "To think that vaccine can reduce the number of people dying, they need to get that vaccine, and to help is really incredible."

First DVPO

OXFORD: The first application for a Domestic Violence Protection Order (DVPO) in Oxford was granted last Wednesday by the city's magistrates' court.

A DVPO is granted in situations where violence has been used or threatened in a domestic relationship, and imposes conditions for up to 28 days.

It was used in this instance after a man was arrested for common assault. At the time no further action was taken, but Thames Valley Police applied for the DVPO after the investigation.

Boundary review considered in Cherwell

CHANGES to Cherwell's ward boundaries that will see councillors representing a more even amount of people are currently being considered by the district council.

As part of an electoral review, the Local Government Boundary Commission for England has proposed merging the existing 28 wards into 16.

Each ward would be represented by three councillors, and would consist of approximately 7,740 electors each.

It would mean that the number of councillors would drop from 50 to 48.

Barry Wood, leader of Cherwell District Council, said: "As it stands, some members represent significantly more residents than others and so by revising the boundaries they aim to even things out.

"While we understand the reasons for this review, it is important to members that this does not come at the expense of communities or the voters within them.

"We want to protect the identity of areas."

The final recommendations will be published later this month ahead of the 2016 district council elections, where the changes would take place.

OXFORD: A decision on whether to redevelop Jericho Boatyard is set to be made by Oxford City Council's West Area Planning Committee next Tuesday.

Start date revealed for Frideswide work

PREPARATORY work on a £5.8million redevelopment of Frideswide Square in Oxford is set to begin on February 16, ahead of the main project starting on March 2.

Oxfordshire County Council is undertaking work to overhaul the current design in an effort to reduce congestion and improve the look of the area.

All the traffic lights on the current layout will be removed and replaced with roundabouts and zebra crossings, with traffic travelling down one central carriageway.

Work beginning a week on Monday will see engineers start to remove traffic islands from the site.

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

The temporary traffic management system, which will be in place throughout the duration of the work, will be implemented overnight on February 27 into 28.

The main phase of work will then start two days later.

David Nimmo Smith, the county council's cabinet member for transport, said: "The start of work marks another step forward in the development of the city of Oxford.

"While we are working on the improvements there will undoubtedly be disruption for people who travel through the area and for those who live or work there.

"We have been in regular contact with people around the square and will continue to work with them to minimise disruption as work progresses."

As well as traffic issues, the redevelopment is being carried out to turn the area into a leisure space.

It is also intended to 'welcome' visitors into the city arriving from Oxford train station.

Cllr Nimmo Smith added: "We want Frideswide Square to be a place people come to for enjoyment and leisure, so the design also seeks to upgrade things like paving, lighting and seating.

"There will be attractive planting and much more space, meaning the area could host events like markets or entertainment in the future."

Work on Frideswide Square is expected to last until early next year.

Mayor's Column

Fiona Roper
Mayor of Wantage

Wantage town is on the up

I AM reaching the end of my second term as Mayor of Wantage – and what an amazing year it has been.

In April I welcomed the Earl and Countess of Wessex to Wantage. We put out all the flags and, despite the appalling weather, there was a great turnout as hundreds of people waited in the pouring rain to greet the royal couple.

Continuing the Wessex theme, the Alfred's Day celebrations last September were bigger and better than before, with over 300 Vikings encamped in the park, 100 tents in the living history area and the weather was glorious too.

As mayor I have the privilege of representing the town at all manner of formal events throughout the county. One event that stood out in October was the St Frideswide service at Christ Church Cathedral, when I was proud to see the King Alfred's Academy orchestra perform at the event.

The service was attended by members of Oxford's Christian, Muslim and Jewish communities, which in the light of recent events in France, bodes well for community relations in our county.

And 2014 ended with two major highs: the installation of the last phase of our Christmas lights which brightened up Dickensian Evening and have been greatly enjoyed by residents and visitors from all over the area.

More importantly though was our winning of the best town centre award in the Great British High Street competition in December.

Working with the district council and using funding from central government we have been able to employ a brilliant town team, which has taken us from 23 empty shops to just three in 18 months. I hope we can sustain the momentum and continue to improve our town.

I'm looking forward to seeing what can be achieved in 2015!

Advertorial

Hazlemere Windows 30 years on

WHEN Stuart Braham set up Hazlemere Windows with his father George and brother Ian in 1985, he had no idea that their small family business would grow to become one of the region's leading employers.

Today the Hazlemere Group has impressive showrooms in Welwyn Garden City and High Wycombe and employs around 120 staff. Many of the Braham family still work within the business. Stuart is the Managing Director and together with other family members and long standing staff, including his daughter, Rachel, they have seen the company flourish. Their ethos of first class customer service together with high quality traditional craftsmanship has certainly paid off.

This independent double-glazing manufacturer and installer has made no secret of its success and why so many of the employees are happy to remain so loyal. The company have made it a policy to retain the skills, enthusiasm and dedication of their key employees through encouragement, rewarding craftsmanship and promoting from within. Customers have been happy to return to them too and much of their work comes from personal recommendation.

It may have started off as humble aluminium and UPVC supplier and installer to local homeowners but today the Hazlemere Group offers a great deal more. Its product range has been developed extensively over the past 30 years and there has been huge growth in their customer base with projects ranging from very traditional to more contemporary homes.

There is a range of stunning conservatories and orangeries to choose from as well as a wide selection of porches and of course, windows and doors. They also cater for various trades and commercial projects from new build homes to full high rise block refurbishments but the original ethos of customer service and quality is still very much at the fore.

There are a great deal of window and door manufacturers to choose from in the UK today but Hazlemere offers a 10 year guarantee which gives added reassurance that your products will last for many years. There is no pressure hard selling either. A simple 'no obligation' home visit by an experienced consultant is all it takes!

The success of the past 30 years won't mean that Hazlemere will be resting on its laurels. The plan is to not to sit still – but as Stuart Braham points out, it is vital to keep core values in place.

"We are all too well aware of the competition we face and how we have to ensure that each and every customer receives our very best service from the moment they initially contact us, right through to the final stages of installation.

Our reputation for delivering this sort of service is one of the reasons why we have enjoyed such outstanding success over the last 30 years."

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Tinnitus Awareness Week

2nd – 8th February 2015

"Tinnitus Awareness Week, organised by the British Tinnitus Association, is a great initiative. It's intended increase awareness of tinnitus and of the risks of exposure to noise and loud music, and to encourage people to protect their ears while enjoying music to prevent permanent hearing damage."

"Not an illness or disease, Tinnitus is a term that describes the sensation of hearing a noise in the absence of an external sound. In the UK alone, it's believed that over 1 in 10 people are affected by tinnitus and, due to the ever increasing volumes experienced in everyday life, the condition is on the increase."

The sound of tinnitus can have virtually any quality. Ringing, whistling, and buzzing are common, but more complex sounds may also be reported. Troublesome tinnitus can be very distressing for the affected individual, and issues may arise with sleep, concentration and mood. However, in many cases, subtle changes in people's environment can address these issues, and improve their quality of life. "Reports suggest that up to 90% of people with tinnitus also have some degree of hearing loss."

"If anyone suffers from tinnitus, or is worried about their hearing, our quick and easy FREE Ear and Hearing Check is a great chance to come in and to speak to us to see if the problem is simply too much earwax in the ear-canal or whether further investigation is required.

The Oxford Hearing Centre is a totally independent hearing healthcare practice that specialises in individually designed auditory rehabilitation, anditory training programmes, tinnitus counselling and hearing instruments not available through the NHS. Thinking outside the box

WELL-RESPECTED husband and wife folk duo Megson will be bringing their traditional folk tunes to the Unicorn Theatre in Abingdon next Thursday, February 12.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Stu and Debbie Hanna, from County Durham and Middlesbrough respectively, are currently embarking on their 'In a Box' UK Tour which will see the twosome travel from as far south as Havant all the way up to Gateshead.

"We first met singing in a youth choir on Teesside when we were 16, and I think that is where the love for harmonies comes from," Stu told the Guardian.

"I then went off to play in a punk band and Debs went to music college – quite different musical paths! But we got together after that and started Megson."

Formed back in 2004 and named after Debbie's family dog that had just died, the couple had originally called themselves 'The Ghost Before Meg', before friends and family convinced the two that they sounded like a death-metal band.

Once they became Megson, the pair exploded onto the folk scene and have since released seven studio albums, including their latest album 'In a Box'.

The pair have also been nominated for 'Best Duo' at the annual BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards for three consecutive years.

"We often like to have some kind of theme for our albums as it helps us to focus on writing and collecting material," Debbie said.

"We came up with the theme 'The Passing of Time' and got together a collection of songs that range from childhood, love, marriage and old age.

"These culminate in the title track 'In A Box', which is about all of the junk we collect over a lifetime and the memories they hold."

"We're so lucky to have received amazing support from our fans and it's fantastic to get such good reviews in the press for doing something we love."

She continued: "It's also slightly surreal to think that so many people know who we are, especially when we spend the majority of our time being parents to our little girl and doing all the day to day things.

"We are very lucky."

Tickets cost £10, and doors open at 7.30pm.

For further details about the show, call 01865 735910.

MONTY Python's 'Spamalot' will be making its calamitous way to the New Theatre Oxford from February 9 to February 14.

The critically acclaimed popular musical, which made its stage premiere back in 2005, is an adaptation of the classic 1975 film 'Monty Python and The Holy Grail'.

King Arthur, his squire Patsy, and his noble knights head to Camalot to try and find the holy grail.

Comedian and TV presenter Joe Pasquale will play King Arthur at the George Street theatre.

He told the Guardian: "I did stand-up here about 15 years ago and I'm incredibly excited to be back.

"This is a really lovely venue in a lovely town so I can't wait to go shopping, sit by the river and have a kebab."

Written by the six Monty Python members, 'The Holy Grail' has become one of the most successful movies in British history both financially and critically.

Grossing £5million from a £400,000 budget, the film was voted by Empire Magazine as the 18th greatest British film out of 100, sixth by Channel 4 and fifth by Total Film Magazine.

Thirty years after it's release, Monty Python member Eric Idle created the musical adaptation, which too became a worldwide success, bringing in around £115million.

"I'm incredibly privileged to be in this production," Joe said.

"When I was growing up, I used to try and watch Monty Python but my dad would never let me."

He added: "However, when he was on night work, my mum would let me watch it as my dad didn't know, so to do an Eric Idle piece like this is amazing.

"Plus, this is from my generation of what I grew up watching on TV as Monty Python were the forerunners of alternative comedy.

"And I also believe that all the great alternative comedies and comedians stand on the shoulders of the Monty Python giants."

Ex-EastEnders and The Bill star Todd Carty also stars in the production.

Tickets cost from £13.40 to £42.90.

Visit atgtickets.com for more information or to book.

Izzy Wizzy let's get busy!

THE main character in Britain's longest-running children's programme will be causing mayhem on the streets of Oxford.

Sooty and chums will be at the New Theatre Oxford on Tuesday, February 17.

It's Sooty's birthday, but nothing is going to plan.

Soo can't decide what to wear whilst Sooty and Sweep are making a mess baking the birthday cake, and poor Richard has to sort everything out.

Expect an afternoon of madness, chaos and fun at the George Street theatre.

"It's everything you'd expect from a Sooty show - magic, music and mayhem!" Sooty co-star and presenter Richard Cadell said.

"Inevitably, things don't go according to plan and when the ingredients for the cake are unleashed, things get a little bit messy."

Back in 1948, puppeteer Harry Corbett bought an all yellow hand puppet to amuse his son Matthew on Blackpool Pier, and it was at that moment where he created one of the most recognisable characters in children's entertainment.

Four years later in 1952, Sooty made his TV debut on the BBC before the show moved to ITV in 1967, where it became a national success.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Richard Cardell, who first presented the show in 1998 following the retirement of Matthew Corbett, (son of Harry Corbett), described being part of the franchise as an honour and believes the show's success will continue to grow.

"The best thing about my job is that I get to work with Sooty! It's an absolute dream come true for me and I couldn't ask for anything more.

"It's also great to meet people from all walks of life who come up to me after the live shows and share their own childhood memories of Sooty - most of them have children themselves now.

"It's an honour to see how this little bear has entertained so many people for so many years, and I'm immensely proud to be a part of it."

He added: "Everyone who works on the show is passionate, enthusiastic and totally devoted to preserving this little bear's legacy, and I'm sure Sooty will go on to entertain children for many more years to come."

The family fun show will be on at 11am and 2.30pm.

Tickets for the show cost £16.90. Visit atgtickets.com for more information. or to book.

Sam Bailey stole the hearts of a nation on X Factor and since winning her feet have barely touched the ground. Having wowed fans up and down the country headlining the X Factor Tour earlier this year Sam is set to embark on her very own tour throughout January and February 2015.
The former prison officer has experienced dreams becoming reality; including an incredible No. 1 with her single Skyscraper, supporting Beyonce on tour, performing with her idol Michael Bolton at the National Television Awards and now her own headline tour.
'I've been performing since I was 15 but I never got to where I wanted to be. Then real life, needing to pay bills, marriage and children happened and you just put everything on hold. X Factor gave a woman like me a chance. It gave me my confidence back, it gave me music back, and this is for all those people out there who believed in me!'
Sam Bailey has recently reissued her number one debut album The Power Of Love 2014. The Power of Love features a stunning collection of covers and brand new tracks, all performed with those self assured, spine-tingling vocals that set the country on fire. Her massive hit single Skyscraper, appears alongside her triumphant duet, And I Am Telling You, with Nicole Scherzinger. The album also features five brand new songs – three Christmas themed tracks: Silent Night, O Holy Night and Please Come Home for Christmas along with an alternative version of original track Treasure and an electrifying version of With You, taken from Ghost - The Musical."

Japanese carmaker unveils CR-V makeover ready for the showrooms this Spring

Honda steps up to the mark

REVIEW: Honda CR-V

By James Richings

THE Honda CR-V has proven to be one of the most popular compact SUVs around the world since it launched in February 1997.

More than 750,000 units have been sold in Europe in its 18 years, and nearly 50,000 were sold last year alone - according to car data company Focus2-Move figures.

It makes the CR-V the world's best ever selling SUV.

And despite only launching four new generations in that time (the latest was released in 2011), the Japanese manufacturers have given the fourth generation CR-V a facelift for the New Year, which includes new modifications and features.

The new-look CR-V is offered with a more powerful diesel engine, as well as an optional efficient nine-speed automatic transmission.

Available with the four-wheel drive CR-V, the new 160bhp 1.6 litre i-DTEC four-cylinder diesel engine delivers performance alongside low CO2 emissions.

The new model is also available with a new efficient nine-speed automatic transmission. Allied to this automatic gearbox, Honda claims the new 160bhp 1.6 litre diesel delivers one of the best power-to-consumption ratios of any engine on sale today.

The styling of the new CR-V has been changed with the tastes of British customers in mind.

They are most notable at the front, with redesigned headlamps flowing into the new grille.

Additionally, the new bumper and skid plate give the CR-V a wider appearance while also lowering the car's visual centre of gravity.

The sleek new front headlamps have powerful halogen bulbs, LED daytime running lights and HID projector headlamps – for visibility on the road ahead in low light conditions.

At the rear, the LED combination lamps have been restyled to give the CR-V a more fluid, three-dimensional appearance.

The new-look CR-V will be available in showrooms this spring.

Saracens leave it late to deny Welsh first win

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

ASSISTANT coach Ollie Smith said there was a sense of embarrassment after London Welsh were beaten 20-15 by an under-strength Saracens side in the LV=Cup last Sunday.

Two late Ben Spencer penalties earned a youthful Saracens team a late victory at the Kassam Stadium after Welsh had led 15-14 with eight minutes remaining.

Last Sunday's result leaves the Exiles bottom of Pool 4 and unable to qualify for the knock-out stages.

Welsh named a strong side with Tom May, Olly Barkley and Tonga international Opeti Fonua all starting.

Smith said, on paper, it was a match the Exiles should have won and that he was not just frustrated by the result.

He added: "A little bit of embarrassment as well in fairness.

"It was a very good opportunity for us and with the players we had on the pitch we should have done far better.

"As it turned out we made far too many errors and we did not win the game.

"But we will pick ourselves up and get on with it and that's the way it is."

The Exiles came as close as they have done this season to recording that elusive first win when they led by a point with just eight minutes remaining in the match.

However, two late Spencer penalties extended the winless run to 22 games in all competitions, leaving Welsh to rue several missed opportunities.

Justin Burnell's side did a fine job to hit the front after being 14-3 behind thanks to two tries from Fonua.

And with Josh Buggea in the sin bin for Saracens, victory looked on the cards.

However, they were denied at the death and Smith admitted that had the Exiles not still been searching for a win they would have found it easier to see the match out.

Smith continued: "Winning becomes a habit but so does losing and at the moment we have got that losing habit.

"Players are under pressure and before you know it you end up losing the game."

The Exiles face Newport Gwent Dragons at Rodney Parade in their last LV=Cup tie on Sunday.

Orome and Mendes join Oxford City

OXFORD City have bolstered their squad with the addition of Helge Orome and Paulo Mendes.

Hoops boss Justin Merritt swooped to sign the duo yesterday, three days after City beat third-placed Tamworth 1-0.

Former Ivory Coast under 21 international Oreme joins from Ryman Premier side Grays Athletic.

The versatile midfielder, who can also play in defence, has also played for Cray Wanderers, Bromley, Horsham and Croydon.

Mendes joins from fellow Vanarama Conference North side Colwyn Bay to further strengthen City's attacking options.

The 21-year-old has previously played for Nantwich Town and Vauxhall Motors after leaving his native Portugal in 2013.

Last weekend, Adi Yussuf's 57th minute goal was enough to end Tamworth's 12-match winning run.

But they did it the hard way as goalkeeper Salva de la Cruz was sent off for a second successive game and defender Declan Benjamin was forced to go between the sticks.

City are back in action on Saturday as they make the trip to Northamptonshire to face Brackley Town.

Davies delighted to end his injury nightmare

ALEX Davies said it was amazing to end a frustrating nine-month injury lay-off against Saracens last weekend.

The 28-year-old had not played since May when he ruptured his anterior cruciate ligament in the first leg of the IPA Championship semi-final.

Davies, a versatile back, admitted he was heartbroken when tests revealed the extent of the injury and watching from the sidelines has been challenging.

However, the Englishman played the last 20 minutes of Sunday's 20-15 LV=Cup defeat and was delighted to finally end his injury nightmare.

Davies said: "It was amazing to wear a Welsh shirt again, get a bit of game time and help the team.

"It had been a long time and very frustrating but the club has stood by me for these nine months and I am forever grateful for that."

The Exiles have only won three competitive matches in Davies' absence and he admits that it has been frustrating to watch from the stands.

He added: "You ask any player what is the worst thing about the injuries and it is training each week and not playing.

"It is frustrating and with results not going our way you are just sat in the stands watching and can't really go out there and help."

Davies had been out on loan at National League One side Rosslyn Park and says he is ready to feature for the Exiles again when they take on Newport Gwent Dragons in the LV=Cup on Sunday.

He continued: "I'm still building that game time up but if the coach feels I am ready to play a full 80 I will do it."

It's two in, three out

Nomads end miserable run with comfortable victory

OXFORD City Nomads earned their first league win since November as they thumped lowly Cheltenham Saracens 4-1 last Saturday.

Chris Fontaine's side had not won in the Hellenic Premier Division since a 3-1 victory over Thatcham Town on November 5.

However, last Saturday's win over the league's bottom side ended the miserable nine-match run where Nomads only recorded one point.

Elsewhere, Kidlington beat Newbury 2-0 last weekend to remain second in the table.

However, league leaders Highmoor Ibis edged Shrivenham 1-0 and maintained their six-point lead over Kiddy.

As long as this wekeend's fixtures survive the recent snow, Nomads welcome Holyport to Marsh Lane on Saturday while Kidlington travel to Thatcham.

Elsewhere, Ardley United host Shrivenham and Milton United face Bracknell Town at Potash Lane.

In the Southern League, Wantage Town travel to Bridgwater Town on Saturday.

The Freds' Division One South & West clash at home to Tiverton was postponed last weekend due to the snow.

NEW signing Alex MacDonald said joining Oxford United was too good an opportunity to turn down after he put pen to paper on Monday.

The 24-year-old forward signed for an undisclosed fee from Burton Albion on the last day of the January transfer window.

He has penned a two-and-a-half year deal at the Kassam Stadium, with the club having a 12-month extension option on him.

MacDonald was United's only addition on Monday, while David Hunt and loanees Tareiq Holmes-Dennis and Wes Burns went the other way.

Meanwhile, striker Tyrone Barnett favoured a move to league leaders Shrewsbury over joining Oxford permanently despite scoring six goals in 12 games for the club while on loan earlier this season.

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

However, head coach Michael Appleton surprised everyone on Tuesday morning with the signing of goalkeeper Jamie Ashdown on a free until the end of the season.

MacDonald, a Scottish under 21 international, has scored seven goals this season for a Burton side who sit second in Sky Bet League Two – 13 places above United.

He admitted it was difficult to leave the Brewers, but could not turn down a move south to Oxford.

He told the club: "It was a hard decision to come away from something that was looking so positive in terms of the league position.

"But it (joining Oxford) was an opportunity for me that was too good to turn down and I'm very much looking forward to the future."

He continued: "After speaking to pretty much everyone connected with the club, the gaffer, experienced players, everything is positive.

"It is a massive club, one that's on the up and I am looking forward to being a part of it."

Ashdown joined United on Tuesday morning and will provide competition for number one Ryan Clarke, while Appleton hinted that Max Crocombe could go out on loan.

The 34-year-old, who made over 100 appearances at Pompey during an eight-year stay at Fratton Park, was released by Crawley Town last November.

He told the club: "I have been looking for a club for a couple of months now and it seems to fit the bill.

"I had a chance to go abroad and see what it was like over there but this has come along and it is perfect."

Stars save point

ICE HOCKEY: Oxford City Stars salvaged a point in a thrilling 6-6 draw against relegation rivals Cardiff Devils on Sunday.

Stars were 6-4 down with 14 minutes on the clock, before goals from Josh Florey and James Pentecost meant that Oxford ended the game level.

They stay ninth in the National Ice Hockey League South 1 standings as a result with 12 points, one ahead of bottom side Devils.

Stars are back in action this Sunday as they travel to Milton Keynes Thunder.

Smith in top-10

MOTOGP: Bradley Smith finished ninth after the first day of testing at the Malaysian track of Sepang yesterday.

His best time of 2:01.707 for the Tech 3 Yamaha team was 1.4 seconds off the fastest lap of the day, set by reigning champion Marc Marquez.

Testing is continuing at the track today and tomorrow ahead of the start of the 2015 MotoGP season in Qatar on March 29.

Marussia saved

FORMULA ONE: The Marussia F1 Team, formerly based in Banbury, is set to come out of administration later this month.

Administrators FRP Advisory made the announcement yesterday that Marussia will be entering into a Company Voluntary Arrangement (CVA) on February 19.

It is hoped that the team will be able to take part in this year's Formula One season as a result, potentially using their 2014 car.

Russell ready for 'Lights Out' Leinster

WANTAGE boxer Terry Russell is set to headline the Queensbury Boxing League's big arena show at London's Alexandra Palace next month.

The 21-year-old will go head to head with Kieran 'Lights Out' Leinster on March 14 for their British Middleweight Title Eliminator clash.

It comes after Russell's last fight saw him secure a famous victory against Oxford rival Artur Gorka to lift the National Super Middleweight belt in October.

And he has set his sights on becoming the number one boxer in the division this year when he meets Leinster next month in London.

"Everyone who has seen me box knows I'm a crowd pleaser and I love to fight," said Russell. "And on March 14 I'm coming in to go toe to toe with Leinster and get right in his face.

"Last time out against Gorka everyone else that had faced him in the league seemed to be scared of his power and backed away from him.

"But I took that power away from him by meeting him head on.

"That's exactly what I'm ready to do against Leinster.

"My mindset with every fight I go into is to take the fight to my opponent and not give them a chance to breath, and I'm more than confident I will be able to make this my kind of fight and get my shot at the British title."

'Quins return to winning form

OXFORD Harlequins won their sixth match of the National League 3 South West season on Saturday, as they beat Newton Abbot 29-20.

It was their first victory since defeating Chard at the start of January, and puts 'Quins 12th in the table - level on 31 points with Barnstaple and just one behind Old Redcliffians.

'Quins return to action this Saturday as they face a trip to Gloucestershire to take on Old Centralians.

Elsewhere, Witney extended their winning run to five matches as they beat Swindon 15-5 at home.

They have gone unbeaten since beating Newbury Blues on December 20, with their form propelling them up the South West 1 East table.

But it was a miserable day in the office for Grove, who were whitewashed 17-0 away to Buckingham.

It's been a mixed season for Grove so far, having lost 11 and won eight of their league matches so far.

The results mean that Witney are up to seventh in the table with 48 points, while Grove sit in 10th a further 11 points back.

Both return to competitive action this Saturday, as Witney travel to Devizes and Grove host Chippenham.

CONFIDENCE NOT AN ISSUE

Didcot's winless run continues with defeat

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

JOINT boss Ian Concannon says his players have not suffered a dip in confidence after Didcot Town's winless run was extended to six games.

Kevin Charley and Tyrone Fagan cancelled out Ryan Brooks' opener as Stratford Town came from behind to earn a 2-1 win at Loop Meadow last Saturday.

The Railwaymen took six points from eight games last month but Concannon says morale is still high.

He continued: "The confidence has not been affected.

"Last week was better in terms of how we played but disappointing that we have not picked up the points we deserved.

"Yet again we gifted them two silly goals and it is going to have to turn.

"Otherwise all the good work they had done until January will go out the window."

An impressive 17-match unbeaten run saw Didcot rise to second in Division One South & West.

However, the change in results has seen the Railwaymen slip to seventh and fall 22 points behind league leaders Merthyr Town.

With January now behind Didcot, Concannon is keen to move on and forget about last month when his side host AFC Totton on Saturday.

He said: "We go again Saturday and try and put it right.

"We don't bring up too much of what has happened, we briefly mention something and move on.

"If we get caught up in something it can have a negative affect on what we are trying to do at the present time."

Concannon continued: "We're just concentrating on trying to get three points, whether it be with a very good team performance or not a particularly good one.

"I don't really care, we just need to get a win on the board."

Strikers John Mills and Pablo Haysham are slight doubts for Saturday with hamstring injuries, while captain Luke Carnell serves the last game of his three-match ban.
